All those holding tickets for the music box to be raffled off at Water House's store on South Main street should be present at the drawing to-night.

The Rev. Henry M. Whitney, of Beloit, will preach in the Congregational church to-morrow morning and evening. Mr. Whitney is a very popular and able speaker, and those who hear him will not be disappointed.

Mayor Winans has called a special meeting of the common council for this evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of taking action relating to laying and locating the street car track on the Milwaukee street bridge.

The rebuilding of the upper dam is progressing very satisfactory. There is a large number of visitors daily at the dam to inspect the work, all of whom go away satisfied that Supt. Ward is doing the work about right.

Work on the street railway will be commenced in earnest on Monday morning. Mr. Murray has been distributing material along the street for a day or two, and now all is ready for pick, spade and hammer, and then the cars.

The St. Patrick's T. A. & B. society will give an excursion to Whitewater on next Thursday, the occasion being the state convention of that organization. Tickets will be seventy-five cents good for two days June 24th and 25th.

Members of the Patriarchal Circle in this city are making arrangements for a cheap excursion to Grand Rapids, Mich., July 13th, the occasion of the meeting of the sovereign grand lodge in that city. Details will be given later.

A fourteen-year-old son of Mr. Caspary, residing on the old farm of Mr. J. G. Hayner, west side of the river, was recently thrown under a horse, by the animal stumbling, and injured internally so that his recovery is considered doubtful.

Mr. J. B. McLean, chairman of the highway, street and bridge committee, informs us that the repairs to the Monterey bridge are about completed, and the bridge is again made safe and ready to accommodate the traveling public in that direction.

In the circuit this morning judgment was rendered in the case of Mary P. Spaulding vs. John Spaulding, J. B. Hume, and P. B. Luey in favor of the plaintiff for $234.42 damages. Danwidie & Goldin appeared for the plaintiff, and Sale & Piers and Winans & Hyzer for the defendants.

The Hon. John Hammond, of Clinton Junction, whose attempted suicide was mentioned in the Gazette of last evening, is recovering. He had only been hanging a short time when cut down. It is believed that the attempt was made on account of despondency caused by ill health.

William Hemming, the Grand Hotel driver who was arrested on a charge of stealing a pocketbook from the bell-boy at the hotel, was discharged, as it appeared that both of the young men were too drunk at the time the theft was alleged to have been committed to know a pocketbook from a street car.

Attention is called to the change in the "time table" of the Chicago & North-western railroad, which goes into effect to-morrow. The St. Paul "limited" express will leave this city at 10:05 p. m., reaching Madison at 11:30 p. m., and St. Paul and Minneapolis the following morning in time for breakfast. Other changes are noted in the "time table".

The funeral of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Morgan was held at St. Patrick's church at 10 o'clock this morning. The Rev. Father Spillard conducted the solemn service. The attendance of sympathizing friends of the family was quite large, and a large number followed the remains to Catholic cemetery, where the little one was tenderly laid to rest.

At a firemen's tournament recently held at Jamestown, Dakota, Mr. F. P. Putnam, formerly of this city, now chief of the Fargo fire department, took the prize for "coupling hose", he making the coupling in 3½ seconds. Next time Fred visits his old home the boys will give him a lesson and show him how a coupling is made in from 1½ to 2½ seconds.

It is only two weeks now until the 4th of July, and no arrangements have been made for a celebration in this city, and the indications are that there will be none. Several of the small towns and villages around us will celebrate on the 3d and 4th. Beloit is trying to raise a little enthusiasm for the purpose of getting up a celebration, but as yet it looks a little doubtful if they succeed in exploding more than half a dozen bunches of fire crackers on that day.

For fourteen years J. K. Wilson was engineer at the Institute for the Blind. He is now in Dakota, but remembering the place where he spent so many years, he recently presented the institution with a fine bagdog. It has been exhibited by H. L. Skarlem, and is now on exhibition at Frank Shorer's drug store. The teachers at the Institute are always glad to receive such things as most of the teaching is necessarily by object lessons; and it would be a very excellent thing for our citizens to bear this in mind.

What is really to take place at Myers' opera house June 25? In the first place, Jean Ingelwala's "Songs of Seven" are to be presented in a series of dainty and pleasing presentations; in the second place that amusing comedy, "Place aux Dames" or "The Women Speak at Last", showing what might have been the history of Lady Macbeth, Portia, Ophelia and Juliet, will then be played by your gifted amateurs. All done out of kindness to the Girls' Social club, for whose benefit this choice entertainment will be given.

A few years ago a society of eminent Frenchmen discussed the question: "What language would a child naturally speak if never taught?" Twenty different results were predicted. To test the matter two infants were procured and isolated with a deaf and dumb woman who lived alone in the Alps, surrounded by her sheep and chickens. After six years the children and the nurse were brought before the savants, who were on the tip of expectation as to the result. When, lo! not a word could either of them utter, but most perfectly could they imitate the crowing of a cock, the cackling of a hen, and the bleating of sheep.

Mr. T. J. Zeigler, the wide awake clothing man at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets, in Smith's block, has just returned from Chicago with a very complete line of sacker snicker and pounce silk coats and vests, which he is prepared to sell at a bargain. The stock of this popular clothing establishment is complete in every department. The store is light and pleasant with ample room and Mr. Zeigler fully appreciates the liberal patronage he is receiving. He possesses the laudable ambition to establish a reputation, not for cheap goods, but for good goods at reasonable prices. Call and examine his stock before buying.

A dispatch from Pierre, Dakota, June 13th, says: To-day George W. Harris, running here in the team from Pierre, broke the record at the farmers' tournament. The race was two hundred yards to hydrant, break attachments, lay three hundred feet of hose, break coupling and attach pipe, all connections showing their full thrust, five hundred pound cart and 350 feet of hose. This was for the state championship. The work was done in forty-one seconds, and in the free for all 40½. These heats were run in one afternoon, and all couplings showed four full thrusts. This breaks the record. Brett and Dorore did the coupling, and Laidlaw, Quirk, Belluene, Mathieson, Bryson, Stone, Bonie, Pardoe, Laughton and Koenig, were the runners. Dell Coy was foreman.

The Fort Atkinson Union—In honoring an artisan well last week for Chase Marsh, of this city, Mr. W. Powers, of Johnston, Rock county, encountered at a depth of 90 feet such a pressure from below as to force up coarse sand twelve feet in the five inch tube, a difficulty against which he is making slow headway. Mr. Marsh is making a most laudable move in striking deep for good water. Our city is getting too old to make pure surface water in almost any part of it a certainty or even a probability. Mr. W. Griffiths, of Janesville, owner of a twenty foot steam yacht, accompanied by a number of friends, including Mr. Chas. Horn, 1st dist fire engineer of that city, made a visit to Lake Koshkonong the fore part of the week. The boat is a little dandy, with a boiler and engine built expressly for it by Wells Bros., of Janesville. There is a general curiosity to know how the Indian Ford dam was surmounted, heretofore an effective barrier to steamers. Mr. Horn writes us in response to a request for information, that it was taken up easily on trucks which, however, were built expressly for the purpose. We hope to see the little visitor at the wharves in the near future.

A beautiful poem.
The feeling that lies in every line of Longfellow's beautiful poem "Evangelicalism" was well brought out in the tableaux at Myers opera house last evening. Acanian peasant life, the scenes, at harvest time, the blacksmith's forge, the roadside of Farmer Beaufield, the betrothal of Gabriel and Evangeline, and the betrothal festival, were all represented, the costumes and surroundings throwing a new light on the poet's meaning in many passages. Then came the announcement of the king's decree that all the Acanian farms and buildings were to be forfeited to the crown and the people taken to other lands. The tumult in the church, the pastor's plea, and the farewell of the peaceful farmers to their homes, followed in quick succession, each scene seeming more life like than the one before. The aimless journey of Evangelical and the old pastor; their final meeting with Basil, only to find that Gabriel, for whom they were searching, had just departed; these and other parts of the narrative were pictured to the audience, ending with the sad meeting of the two whose betrothal had taken place in Acadia so many years ago. There was no fault that could be found with any tableau. Everything seemed carefully worked up and great praise is due to Dr. Thor Judd, to whose experience, energy and taste much of the success is due. His characters were well chosen, Miss Gertrude Zeigler, as "Evangelical," receiving a great deal of favorable comment; and Mr. Fred Sperry as "Gabriel," being, very evidently, at his best. All of the parts were well taken, although space forbids our speaking of each separately.

The tableaux were not the only excellent feature. Anderson's orchestra received great praise for their music and the performances of Mr. Will Thiele on the cornet and of Charles Sherman on the violin were both very fine and both gentlemen were obliged to respond to enthusiastic applause.

Mrs. J. W. St. John was in unusually good voice and her solo was highly appreciated by the audience. The double quartette composed of that lady and Miss Kittie Farnsworth, Miss Etta Pond, Miss Bathie Dearborn, Mrs. C. E. Mosely, Mrs. C. B. Conrad, Miss Martha Wiley and Miss Frances Edwards was also received with hearty applause. After their first number, "Let us go without a response to the encore, and they finally complied by singing "You Spotted Snakes." The ladies gave evidence of careful study and their songs were very enjoyable features of an entertainment that has not been equaled by anything of the kind in this city for a long time.

The Caledonian Society.
The Rock Caledonian society held their first regular monthly social at their hall in upper front of the Court Street M. E. church block, corner Main and Court streets, Thursday evening last, and the manner in which such an act and daughter of Scotland responded to the call of the general president, was very gratifying to their friends and creditable to themselves. The hall was comfortably full and all in holiday humor, and every number elicited and merited applause. Mrs. J. B. Day rendered a comical Scotch selection in her immitable style and Mr. John Galletly gave "Potatoes," a serio-comic poem, in a truly delightful manner. Mr. Adam Scott gave an oration on the object and aim of the society, in beautiful and appropriate language, which was well timed and heartily received. Mr. John Richardson read a poem, "The Petrol," in a manner creditable to his early training as a reader. Miss Scott presided at the organ and gave the company some delightful music. The violin duets by Messrs. Scott, sons of Robt. Scott, of the first ward, was worthy of the encomiums pronounced upon their performance. Miss Skinner, of LaPrairie, sang very sweetly a selection that was artistically rendered and elicited well merited applause. Matthew Patterson sang an old Scotch ballad, "My Bonnie and Me," and George Skinner sang "Logic of Reasoning," both in the real good old style where the music is secondary to the sentiment. John Christy favored the audience with an appropriate song well sung. But the gem of the evening was "Eul Fae Ten," sung by George Aitken in a most delightful style, and "brought down the house."

Refreshments were served in liberal quantities and the evening closed by all joining in singing Auld Land Syne. And the whole may truthfully be pronounced a success. The next Caledonian social occurs Thursday evening, July 15, at 7:30 sharp, at their rooms in Court Street church block, to which all true lovers of Scotland are cordially invited.

Stereopticon Exhibition.
In and for the benefit of the First M. E. church, Janesville, opening first night by projections on the screen, pictures from eighteen to twenty feet square, of the extinct monster saurians, or animals of our primeval land and water—never before shown in Janesville. All photographed from remains exhumed, and now restored in the museums of Europe and America, showing the mighty flying serpent, at which Prof. Marsh, of Yale college, collected over 600 in number, some of which had a spread of wings of over twenty-five feet, skull four feet long, body in proportion, the rearing of these extinct monsters, the first inhabitants of earth, as restored by scientific men, is of far more worth than the insignificant mite charged for admission for the benefit of the gospel.

These pictures will be followed by many finely colored and plain views of works of art and interest in all parts of the world—interspersed with some things amusing as well as improving. Admission 10 cents. All Sunday school children and Sunday school workers will be especially interested and profited.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Giving the Time and Places Where Divine Services Will Be Held on Sunday.

I will praise thee, O Lord, with my whole heart; I will show forth all thy marvelous works; I will be glad and rejoice in thee; I will sing praise to thy name, O thou Most High. When mine enemies are turned back, they shall fall and perish at thy presence. For thou hast maintained my right and my cause; thou satest in the throne judging right. Thou hast rebuked the wicked, thou hast put out their name for ever and ever. O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end, and thou hast destroyed cities: their memorial is perished with them. But the Lord shall endure for ever; he hath prepared his throne for judgment. And he shall judge the world in righteousness, he shall minister judgment to the people in uprightness. The Lord also will be a refuge for the oppressed, a refuge in times of trouble. And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee, for thou, Lord, hast not forgotten them that seek thee. Sing praises to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion; declare among the people his doings. When he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth them; he forgetteth not the cry of the humble. Have mercy upon me, O Lord; consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me up from the gates of death. That I may show forth all thy praise in the gates of the daughter of Zion; I will rejoice in thy salvation. The heathen are sunk down in the pit that they made; in the net which they hid is his own foot taken. The Lord is known by the judgment which he executeth; the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. Higginon, Selah. The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all nations that forget God. For the needy shall not always be forgotten; the expectation of the poor shall not perish forever. Arise, O Lord, let not man prevail; let the heathen be judged in thy sight. Put them in fear, O Lord, that the nations may know themselves to be but men. Selah.
